Sitemap

I kept the sitemap as simple as possible. It features 4 main pages (HOME, PROFILE, BLOG, CONTACT). The home page provides a link to the resume (important). The blog page consists of 5 blogs. Contact consists of 4 links to social media.

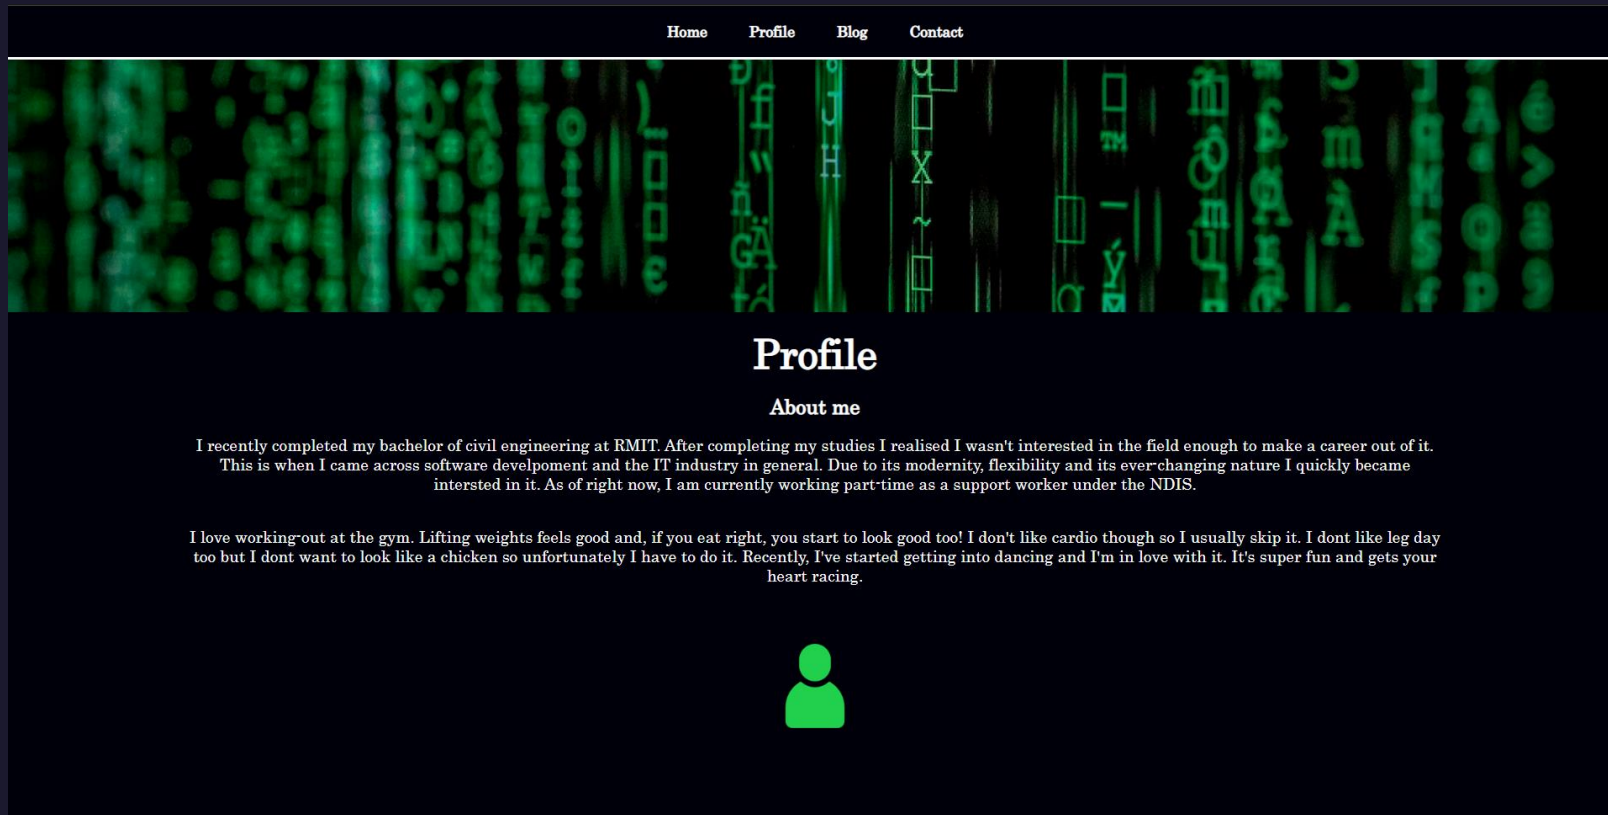

Wireframe

Like the sitemap, I kept the wireframe as simple and possible. The wireframe shown is applied to all pages of the website except the blog pages (they consist of an extra nav bar). The entire website is also completely responsive when using other devices such as smartphones and tablets.

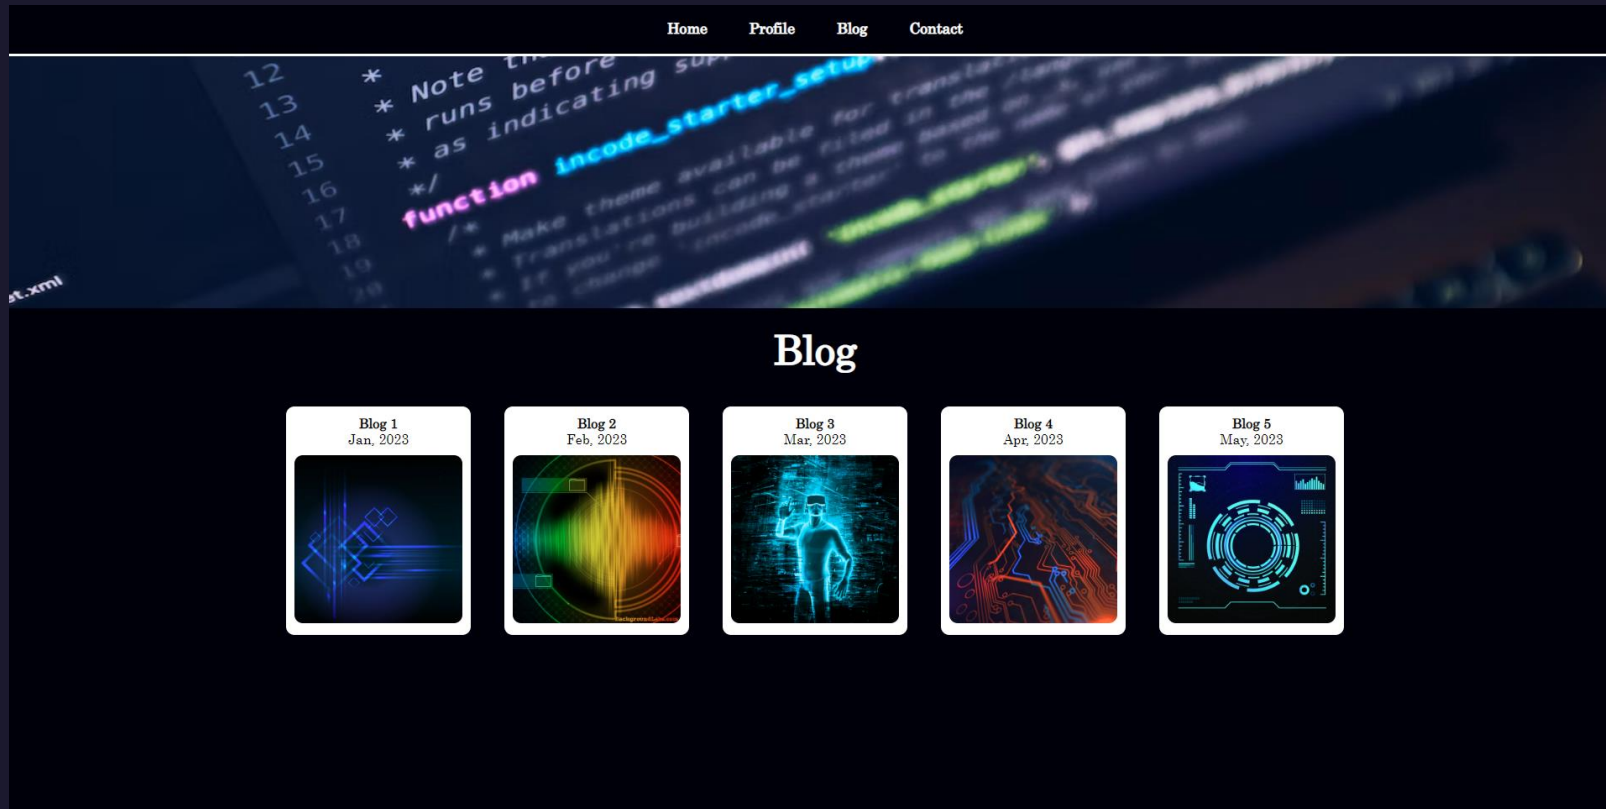

Home page

I wanted the overall design to be simple and pleasing to the eye. It features a nav bar in which the buttons glow white (contrast) with a smooth transition. The home page provides a link to my resume (PDF) so the employer can see it immediately without having to navigate the entire website for it.

Profile page

This page provides background information about myself. It has a greener aesthetic to differentiate itself from other pages.

Blog page

The blog page consists of 5 links that take you to its corresponding blogs. Like the nav bar it glows white when you hover over the blog icons.

Blogs 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5

When the blog icons are clicked on it takes you to another page. This page consists of a second nav bar to navigate the other blogs. Each blog has a different image to differentiate from one another.

Contact page

The contact page provides linked icons to social media. This also has a white glow effect to keep the design consistent.
